

Home > News >

Recap Research Intelligence Network Netherlands symposium

13 Aug 2024

Listen

On 27 June, the Research Intelligence Network Netherlands and Maastricht University Library organised the annual symposium at the Maastricht University (UM) building Tapijn with the themes: 'state-of-the-art Research Intelligence for impact' and 'the power of visualisations'.

Policies on Open Science and Recognition & Rewards keep our community ever-evolving, and it was informative to hear from people at other universities about how they deal with these changes. For example Ricgraph, a tool presented by Utrecht University that can visualise networks of research information. This tool can be interesting for libraries, marketing and communication but also for academics themselves. The workshop of Cathelijne Waaijer on data visualisation was refreshing; we often feel the need to include more data in a visualisation than needed and this can obscure your message.

Despite the hot weather, most of our community members joined on premises and this further strengthened the bonds within our community. It was a beautiful and informative day!

Need assistance?

If you want to know more about Research Intelligence services at UM, please visit our website or contact us via Ask Your Librarian.

Listen